GERMANY TRAINING CRIPPLED SOLDIERS

Carefully, Planning to Avoid Having Wounded Become Public Charges.

Berlin, June 10.—Following in the wake of other municipalities and states, Berlin now is taking energetic steps to care for and train to civil usefulness its crippled soldiers. It is proposed to prevent at all cost, the misfortune of having these men become dependent charges.

At a recent meeting of that body which most nearly corresponds to the city council of an American municipality, Mayor von Wermuth, Berlin's Oberbürgermeister, presented a plan which includes the establishment of a fund of $20,000 and a council or committee on which numerous civic and philanthropic organizations shall be represented to carry out the details of training the men.

At the head of the organization there is to be a deputy of the city government, assisted by a councillor and a committee. This committee shall be composed of representatives of the organizations that in the ordinary course of events bear the expense of caring for the injured—the Berlin soldiers are insured, the Red Cross, the military medical administration, and the central labor bureau.

The councillor shall be assisted by representatives of the mayor, the city council, a surgeon, an orthopedist, representatives of the police president of Berlin, the Women's Association of the Fatherland, the National Association of Woman's Aid, and several labor organizations and trade and technical bodies. Also the German association of working men and the Berlin Council of Business men will be asked to have a representative each.

Arrangements already have been made to transfer invalids from hospitals in other parts of Germany, whose actual, bona fide homes are in Greater Berlin, to a hospital provided by the military medical administration. Here they will be able to get unsurpassed medical attention preparatory to the training for some calling.

A most important part in the plans now under way will be played by the Central Labor Intelligence Bureau, which will be charged with finding positions for men as soon as they are fitted for new callings or for partial resumption of their old activities. This organization already is at work preparing the field.

Before presenting the plan to the city council Mayor von Wermuth assured himself of the support of labor organizations and trade unions, as well as the financial aid of the government insurance bodies in whom most German men are carried.

Even before the men leave the hospital the question of what trade they will take up will be considered. In charge of this will be experts, who will pass uniformly on all cases. The scientific and advanced schools of Berlin will be utilized to their fullest extent, as well as those institutions conducted by the insurance companies.

In urging the necessity for some such step as this on the part of Berlin, Mayor von Wermuth declared: "Those injured in the war are coming to us in steadily growing numbers from the hospitals. They need immediate aid in order, as quickly as possible, to take up callings and relations which will preserve their strength and ability. These injured must not be thrown upon public institutions for the care of the poor. They must be spared the oppressing feeling that in the fulfillment of their highest patriotic duty they have become worthless members of human society."

SAGE AND SULPHUR DARKENS GRAY HAIR

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Restore Color, Gloss and Thickness.

Hair that loses its color and lustre, or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless, is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grandmother made a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful, and thousands of women and men who value that even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive, use only this old-time recipe.

Nowadays we get this famous mixture by asking at any drug store for a 50 cent bottle of "Wyneth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which darkens the hair so naturally, so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. Besides, it takes off dandruff, stops scalp itching and falling hair. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; but what delights the ladies with Wyneth's Sage and Sulphur is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also brings back the gloss and lustre and gives it an appearance of abundance.

TRIBBLE-PRESSLEY WEDDING SOLEMNIZED

Beautiful Young Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Tribble Bride of Mr. James Pressley.

In front of a beautiful arch of sweet peas, and surrounded by a profusion of bowls and baskets of this lovely flower which filled the rooms with their fragrance, the wedding of Miss Eva Tribble, and Mr. James Pressley occurred last night at eight o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Tribble on Greenville street. Sweet peas being the chosen flower, these dainty colors were carried out in every detail of the wedding, making it a sweet pea wedding. The house had been elaborately decorated, all the doors and windows being outlined in ivy, with a broad green stair way, down which the bridal party came one by one, each one in a dainty shade of the sweet pea colors and carrying long handle green baskets filled with sweet peas.

Just before the ceremony, Mrs. E. F. Jay of Greenwood sang, "I'll Go with Thee into the World and Into the World Beyond," after which Miss Harlan Howard of Birmingham, Ala., sang, "Beloved It Is Morn." Both have voices of rare sweetness and purity and their songs were a fitting prelude to the beautiful strains of the wedding by Miss Miriam Lee at the piano and Mr. Robin Cooper on the violin. At the first notes the two little ribbon girls in dainty white dresses with pink sashes came down the stairway with baskets of sweet peas, to which were fastened the broad white ribbons; crossing the reception hall into the parlor and taking their stand on either side of the altar they made an aisle for the bridal party as they came down the stairs one by one. Miss Alleana Franks of Laurens, in a pink crepe meteor, shirred around the waist and trimmed in chiffon roses and pink chiffon with slippers to match.

Miss Sallie Stone of Chester wore a white silk net, trimmed in real lace, and handsome silk cords and white slippers.

Miss Grace Killigworth of Chester was lovely in a crepe meteor dress of pale apple green shade, draped from the shoulder and caught with sprays of pink sweet peas.

Miss Alma Turner wore a handsome pink taffeta, hand embroidered, with lace trimmings with pink slippers.

Miss Ella Groce of Welford in dainty silk crepe made empire with a big butterfly bow of chiffon and slippers to match.

The dame of honor, Mrs. R. W. Tribble was handsome in a green crepe de chene with lace draped over dress and gold girle.

The bride's sister, Miss Ella May Tribble was maid of honor and wore a lovely dress of lace over yellow messaline. She carried a basket of pure white sweet peas, and Mrs. Tribble carried a basket of pink sweet peas. The other bridesmaids all carried baskets of sweet peas, of all the delicate shades that made a charming picture all grouped around the lovely bride.

The little bearer was Master James Craig, Jr., in a pink suit with the ring on a silver tray.

The pretty bride, in her beautiful satin robes, on train and exquisitely embroidered entered with her father. She carried a shower bouquet of sweet peas.

The groom and his best man, Mr. Charlie Watkins entered from the rear hall and meeting the bride just at the beautiful arch, the sweet and impressive ceremony, with the ring was performed by Dr. E. M. Potent, president of Furman University.

Immediately after the ceremony the guests were pleasantly entertained at a very delightful reception.

In the piazza from a bowl embanked in sweet peas Miss Ruth Watkins, Miss Florida Harris and Miss Lella Mosely served delicious nectar. At the front door Mrs. D. S. Vandiver and Mrs. D. C. Brown received the guests.

In the dining room the decorations were especially pretty, the round center table, being covered with a handsome lace cover. From the chandeliers above were caught four streamers of pink tulle that were fastened to the table beneath. Suspended just below the lights was a lovely basket of sweet peas. Miss Nelle Barton had charge of the dining room, and here an elegant salad course was served by Misses Ola Tribble, Evelyn Cox, Ruth Archer, Lucille Burris, Lola Wilson and Mrs. Joe Auld.

Mrs. J. M. Sullivan, Jr., Mrs. Levis Sanders and Miss Annie Cox invited the guests into the dining room. The souvenirs were little pink maline bags, filled with rice and were pinned on by Sara Tribble, Kathleen Cook and Dorothy Tribble.

Miss Foe Broyles had charge of the wedding book, where all the guests registered during the evening.

In the living room was the beautiful display of wedding, a splendid collection of cut glass china, silver and many other handsome gifts. Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Tribble's present was a beautiful cressian, walnut bed room suit.

During the evening Mrs. Pressley changed her lovely wedding dress for a handsome traveling suit with hat and gloves to match, and the young couple slipped away in an automobile for a brief wedding trip, after which they will be at home to their friends at Hotel St. James.

Beautiful "At Home" Yesterday Afternoon.

A beautiful affair prettily carried out in every detail was the "at home" given yesterday afternoon by Mrs. A. M. Sharpe and Mrs. Daisy Wilson, at the home of the former on S. McDuffie street. This lovely new home is most attractively fitted up and bright with many lovely flowers. It was a pretty setting for the handsomely dressed women who were guests for the afternoon. Miss Margaret Evans welcomed the ladies at the door, and Mrs. Frank Bolt introduced them to the receiving line, which stood in the music room.

In the two front rooms many beautiful sweet peas were the only decorations used, in the music room all being pink and lavender, and in the dining room all the many beautiful colors were used in abundance everywhere. In the receiving line were Mrs. A. M. Sharpe, Mrs. W. F. Fox, Mrs. Clarence Brock, Mrs. Daisy Wilson and Miss Jean Harris.

After greeting their hostess and her guests, Miss Georgia Marshall invited them into the living room, and here delightful music was given during the afternoon by Mrs. W. H. Nardin, Mrs. W. J. Muldrow, Mrs. John Frank, Mrs. T. L. Cely, Mrs. C. B. Earle, Mrs. W. B. Steele and Misses Zoe Broyles and Louise Henry.

Mrs. B. A. Henry and Mrs. Irvin Brownlee invited the ladies into the dining room. Here the decorations of white and green were particularly pretty and effective. A highly polished round table was in the center of the room with a handsome lace cover. In the center was a beautiful basket of pure white sweet peas with a large bow of white maline on the handle. From the center to the edge of the table thin ribbons that was caught with a spray of white sweet peas to the edge of the table. Candelabras with green candles were placed at intervals around the table. Miss Alberta Brock had charge of the dining room, and was charmingly assisted in serving by Misses Marguerite Henry, Catherine Sullivan, May Ligon and Alberta Farmer. From the dining room the guests were taken out on the porch, which had been comfortably fitted up with rugs and chairs, and many spent some time very pleasantly out there. Mrs. J. W. Cattlebaum and Mrs. J. M. Paget looking after the guests.

Others assisting and entertaining the guests were Mrs. L. M. Cecil, Mrs. Henry Frierson and Mrs. Frank Mauldin. About three hundred ladies called during the afternoon between 4:30 and 6:30.

Miss Miriam Howard of Birmingham, Ala., is the guest of friends here, for the Tribble-Pressley wedding last night.

Miss Alleana Franks of Laurens, one of the attendants at the Tribble-Pressley wedding last evening, will be the guest of Mrs. J. B. Townsend for the next few days.

Miss Margaret Berry of Birmingham is the guest of Mrs. J. W. Linley in N. Anderson.

Leon and Carl Brock of Honea Path are visiting William Mattison on Society street.

Miss Laura Horton has gone to Fayetteville, N. C., to attend a house party.

Dr. and Mrs. J. M. Bell have returned to Wallhalla, after spending a few days with Mrs. Frederick Maxwell.

DELIGHTFUL ROOK PARTY.

A delightful rook party was given on Wednesday evening, by Miss Mabel Dillingham at her home on Benson street. The four tables were arranged in the parlor, were a color scheme of yellow and white was prettily carried out. After several merry games Bennett Townsend and Dan Ledbetter tied for the prize, a box of candy. They decided to present it to one of the girls, and in a blind-folded contest, it was won by Miss Marcella Guest. After the games a delightful sweet course was served.

For Miss Laughlin.

One of the most attractive visitors in Anderson just now is Miss Flora Laughlin of Vicksburg, Miss., who is the guest of her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Laughlin, on N. Main street. Miss Laughlin is a grand-niece of Jefferson Davis and comes from one of the oldest and most prominent families in the South. She is being tendered many charming social attentions. On Monday evening Mrs. William Laughlin entertained about twenty guests at a delightful informal little affair in her honor. The time was spent chatting, and several musical selections added to the pleasure of the evening.

Pretty Affair for Tribble-Pressley Wedding Party.

The Tribble-Pressley wedding party was beautifully entertained on Wednesday evening by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Barton at their home on Cater street. The guests were met at the door by Miss Nelle Barton, Mrs. Harleston Barton and Miss Miriam Lee, and during the evening music by Mrs. James H. Craig and Miss Zoe Broyles added much to the pleasure of the occasion. On the porch a beautifully decorated table was arranged and here punch was served all during the evening by Misses Dorothy Tribble and Kathleen Cook. Misses Ada Casey and Ola Tribble distributed heart shaped cards and each lady was asked to write some advice for the bride, and each gentleman, advice for the groom. This was the source of much merriment. Mr. S. Nelle Cochran reading the cards aloud. The guests were then invited into the prettily decorated dining room, by the tap of a bell, the

OSBORNE TO HAUL SAND WITH TRACTOR

HAS SECURED CONTRACT FOR PLACING SAND FOR CITY PAVING.

WILL PULL SIX CARS And By Making 4 Trips Daily Will Be Able to Haul 120 Yards Every Day.

Mr. Clarence Osborne has secured a contract for a large part of the sand to be used in the city paving which is to be commenced in a few days and will haul it from Carpenter's Mill with a traction engine and fleet of wagons.

Yesterday Mr. Osborne placed an order with the Case company for a 24 horse-power gasoline tractor and six cars or wagons. This is said to be one of the best means of hauling that has ever been tried in this section. The cars are made of steel and will hold 30 yards of sand. This will make 30 yards to the trip and with 4 trips a day Mr. Osborne will be able to place 120 yards of sand a day. The engine and cars will be shipped from the Case factory within the next ten days.

Mr. Osborne has also secured contract for some of the grading which is to be done.

bridal party coming first, conducted by Master James Craig. Here Mrs. Barton presided at the lovely serving table, and the bride's cake was cut and much laughter and fun. Miss Ella May Tribble was the unfortunate winner of the thimble, while the mystical ring fell to Miss Alleana Franks, a charming visitor from Laurens. Miss Grace Killigworth, another attractive visitor from Columbia, cut both the dime and button, the latter of which she very courteously presented to Mr. Charlie Watkins.

A delicious sweet course, block ice cream and angel cake, in the chosen colors of pink and white, was served by Mrs. G. W. Ould, Misses Cochran and Olivia Duckett. The pretty souvenirs, little slippers, were pinned on by Miss Caroline Wilkie. About seventy guests were present for this delightful occasion.

Freckle-Face

Sun and Wind Bring Out Ugly Spots. How to Remove Easily.

Here's a chance, Miss Freckle-face, to try a remedy for freckles with the guarantee of a reliable dealer that it will not cost you a penny unless it removes the freckles; while if it does give you a clear complexion the expense is trifling.

Simply get an ounce of ethine—double strength—from any druggist and a few applications should show you how easy it is to rid yourself of the homely freckles and get a beautiful complexion. Rarely is more than one ounce needed for the worst case.

Be sure to ask the druggist for the double strength ethine as this is the prescription sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove freckles.
